Questions you may have:

Q: What is Buckner?

A: Buckner is one of the most unique faith-based social service organizations of its kind, serving people in the United States and worldwide since 1879. Buckner has ministered to women and families in need of help and guidance, empowering them to achieve their goals and flourish in life.

Q: Can I raise a child and still achieve my dreams?

A: Having a child is life-changing but change can challenge and push you to meet your full potential. Buckner is equipped to give you the tools for success in obtaining your dreams.

Q: Will I be a good parent?

A: Parenting takes love, commitment and education – not perfection. Buckner offers assistance in building a secure attachment between you and your baby. We offer parenting classes, financial empowerment classes, and groups focused on strengthening families so you and your family can thrive. Increasing your knowledge and building your community of support can be the first steps to successful parenting.

Q: Can I really do this?

A: Most new parents will say that their support system was one of the most valuable tools that helped them during their first year of parenting, and Buckner is here to be part of that support to help you reach your goals.
