Buckner: A Legacy of Hope

Dr. Robert Cooke Buckner, a Baptist pastor from Tennessee came to Texas in the post-Civil War era. He saw how many orphans and widows there were following the war and felt called to do something to help. He founded Buckner Orphans Home in 1879.

Click here to watch a short video about our history

His core drive for ministry came from the call in James 1:27: “Religion that is pure and undefiled before God the Father is this: to care for orphans and widows in their distress.” It is still what informs Buckner’s core values today.

Buckner has placed children in loving adoptive homes since 1884.

Did you know there are no longer orphanages in the United States?

Research shows that children thrive when they're in loving homes, not in institutions. This is why the foster care system was developed.

In Texas, Child Protective Services completed 174,740 investigations in 2018. Of those, they confirmed 63,657 children were victims of abuse or neglect, according to the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services.

There are so many reasons why kids are placed into foster care. The one thing they all have in common is that it's not their fault.

Why kids are removed from their homes.

NOTE: These categories are not mutually exclusive, so percentages will total more than 100% and counts will be more than the total number of entries.

What are the biggest needs?

- Care of older children and teens
- Care of sibling groups
- Therapeutic foster care and adoption

In Texas, more than 1,000 kids age out of the foster care system each year.

“Studies show that between 60 and 85 percent plus of child victims of trafficking in the U.S. come from the foster system.”

- The average age of kids in foster care is eight years old, according to U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
- There are 9,398 kids age 12 and older in foster care in the state of Texas, according to Texas Department of Family and Protective Services.

Kids who age out of the foster care system are vulnerable to homelessness, abuse, sex trafficking and more.

Sibling Group Foster Care & Adoption

- The Texas Department of Family and Protective Services reports that 7,253 sibling groups in the state of Texas are currently in foster care. Of those, 34.9% of them are not placed together. The multiple losses a child experiences when entering foster care is compounded by the unexpected loss of sibling separation.

Buckner Foster Care and Adoption is licensed for two levels of therapeutic foster care: Moderate and Specialized.

Moderate and Specialized Therapeutic Care involves caring for children who may have one or more of the following needs:

- Nondebilitating medical conditions
- Behaviors or conditions requiring regular therapy appointments
- Increased level of supervision
- Behavior intervention solutions

Due to the specialized care these children need, Buckner is looking for the following in these families:

- Individuals with a passion for bringing healing to children with high structure and high nurture needs.
- At least one parent in the home with a flexible work schedule.
- Aware that families will not receive multiple therapeutic children in the home at a time.
- Able to provide for their own financial needs without relying on foster care reimbursement.

Additional Support & Resources Provided to Therapeutic Foster Families:

- Foster parents receive specialized training to enable them to provide care for a wide variety of children and adolescents, usually those with significant emotional or behavioral problems. Parents in therapeutic foster homes are more closely supported and assisted than parents in basic care foster homes.

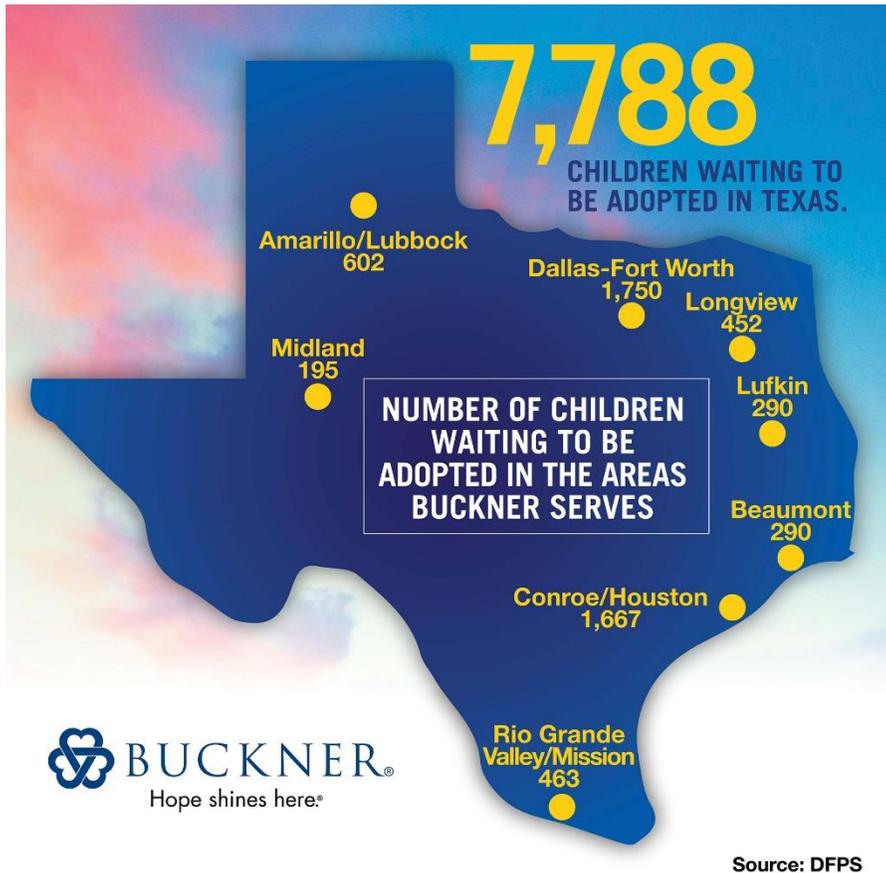

- Therapeutic families receive support through mentors, school liaisons, respite providers, a Multidimensional Treatment Team, etc.

- Buckner has the unique ability to offer extra support to therapeutic families through our extensive volunteer and church networks.

- We offer school liaisons. Our school liaisons have a background in education that they will use to help you navigate through the school system and special education programs to help the child who comes into your home.

Foster-to-Adopt vs. Waiting Texas Children

- Foster-to-adopt: This option involves being a foster parent (providing a temporary home) and then having the option to adopt the child in your home should their parents' rights be terminated during the time the child is in your home.

- Waiting Texas Children: Families who go through this program are seeking to adopt a child who is in the foster care system whose parents' rights have already been terminated but they have not been adopted yet.

- In Texas, there are more than 7,000 children in foster care who are waiting to be adopted. Their parents' rights have been terminated so their only permanency plan is adoption. If they are never adopted, children anywhere between age 18 – 21 will age out of the foster care system with no one to support or care for them. Many of these children are in a sibling group or are older children and teenagers. Some of them have significant physical, educational or emotional needs. However, every single one needs and deserves a loving family.

**Please note, Buckner is not accepting inquiries or applications for foster care and adoption programs through the Conroe office at this time.*

What is Respite Care?

- Respite care providers offer relief care for 72 hours to 14 days for children in placement with other foster families, usually during vacation or emergency periods.

- Families providing respite care services will need to be open to serving our children and families throughout the year as needed. They also need to be open to working with children of different ages, cultures and gender. Respite providers will need to complete every step of the foster care licensing process (training, documentation and home study) in order to be approved as respite caregivers.

What is Kinship Care?

Buckner provides support and resources to people who are caring for the children of relatives, or in some cases, close family friends (also referred to as fictive kin).

Oftentimes, kinship care helps maintain the child's family, cultural and community ties when the birth parents are unable to care for them.

Domestic Infant and Child Adoption Program

- We provide permanent homes for infants or children whose birth parents have made a voluntary plan of open adoption and want to maintain a relationship with the adoptive family.

- If adoption is believed to be the best option, the birth parents then choose the adoptive family. With Buckner's assistance, the birth parents and adoptive family determine the openness of their relationship in the life of their child.

- Buckner supports both the birth parents and the adoptive family through education, counseling and support groups.
