Genera

Experts tell us there are seven generations living today, from the oldest, the Greatest Generation, to the Alpha Generation representing those born from 2013-2025.

A generation includes people born within about 20 years of each other. We often think of generations divided by grandparents, parents, and grandchildren.

Today, a key pillar of our ministry is transforming generations. We believe a vital calling of our work is serving one generation so succeeding generations move beyond generational issues of poverty, abuse, neglect, and lack of opportunity.

More than seven generations have passed since Buckner International began serving vulnerable people in 1879. Generations have served and been served. From the days when farmers brought fresh fruits, vegetables, and meat to the Buckner Orphans Home, to 2023, when donors give online or use electronic funds transfers, generations of likeminded friends like you have made an eternal difference for children, families, and senior adults.

We believe a vital calling of our work is serving one generation so succeeding generations move beyond generational issues of poverty, abuse, neglect, and lack of opportunity

BUCKNER.
Hope shines here.™

Friends,

I'm a product of the generations of my family. I'm grateful for their seen and unseen contributions, making me who I am today. In turn, I have a responsibility to my three sons.

All of us bear a resemblance to past generations of our families, either physically or for who we are today. We are shaped by our past and we shape our family's future.

What is true in our own families is exponentially true for Buckner. This organization has been shaped by more than seven generations of friends like you who believe in our work. In turn, we hold a great responsibility to shape future generations.

Studies show the key to changing the trajectory of a family is changing generational patterns. If we can transform just one generation, that transformation lives on in future generations.

We often talk in terms of a budget year. How much money do we need to raise that year? But when you support the work of Buckner in a given year, your gift lives on for generations to come. You have a multiplying impact into the future.

So, as you look through this 2023 Annual Report, I hope you see the numbers and faces of lives changed in 2023 for this generation. But also look past those faces and numbers and see generations to come also transformed because of you.

OUR PILLARS

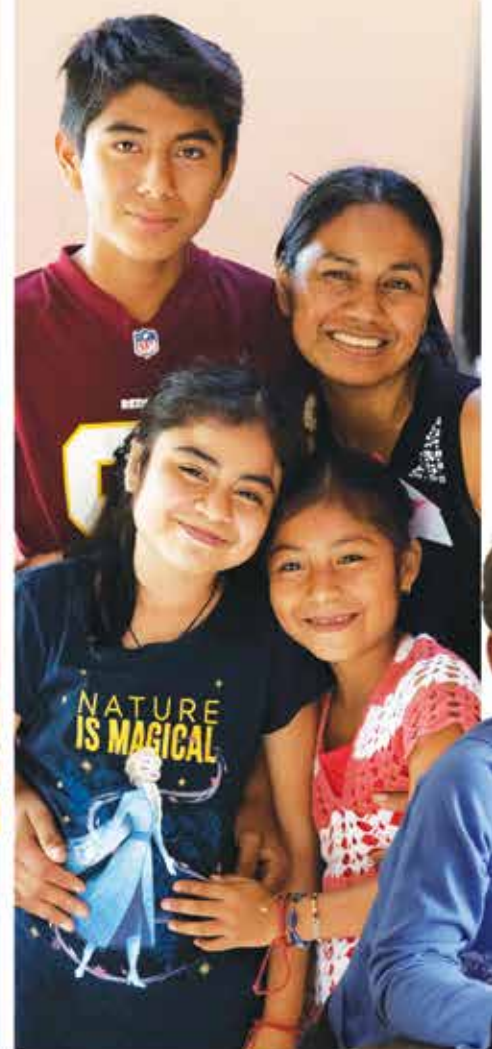

Serving generations

The generosity and compassion of people like you has supported our mission since 1879. You have walked with us as we serve vulnerable people across generations, from children to seniors. This continuum of services is the foundation of our mission and the inspiration for our four pillars:

Protect children.

Strengthen families.

ns for generations

Transform generations.

Serve seniors.

Great Place to Work certified. Again.

Buckner employees once again rated us as a Great Place to Work through an annual survey produced by Activated Insights.

The certification applies to Buckner International, Buckner Children and Family Services, and Buckner Retirement Services.

The 2023 survey results yielded a score of 94 on the trust index, which is nine points higher than the previous year and 13 points higher than the baseline for certified companies.

“Employees who feel valued and respected are able to better carry out our mission serving the vulnerable,” said Buckner International President and CEO Albert Reyes. “While I’m proud we continue to be certified each year, I’m even more proud of the actions we take to improve based on employee feedback.”

OUR FOCUS MINISTRIES:

Foster Care and Adoption. Sometimes children need protection and families are unable to stay together. Buckner Foster Care and Adoption steps in and provides safe, loving homes for vulnerable children. Children and families are fully supported through counseling and additional resources.

Buckner Family Hope Center®. When families are strong, children can grow up empowered and safe. Buckner Family Hope Centers offer parenting classes, financial training, after-school opportunities and family coaching that strengthen families and help them become self-sufficient. Every Family Hope Center is tailored to meet the unique needs of the community where it is located.

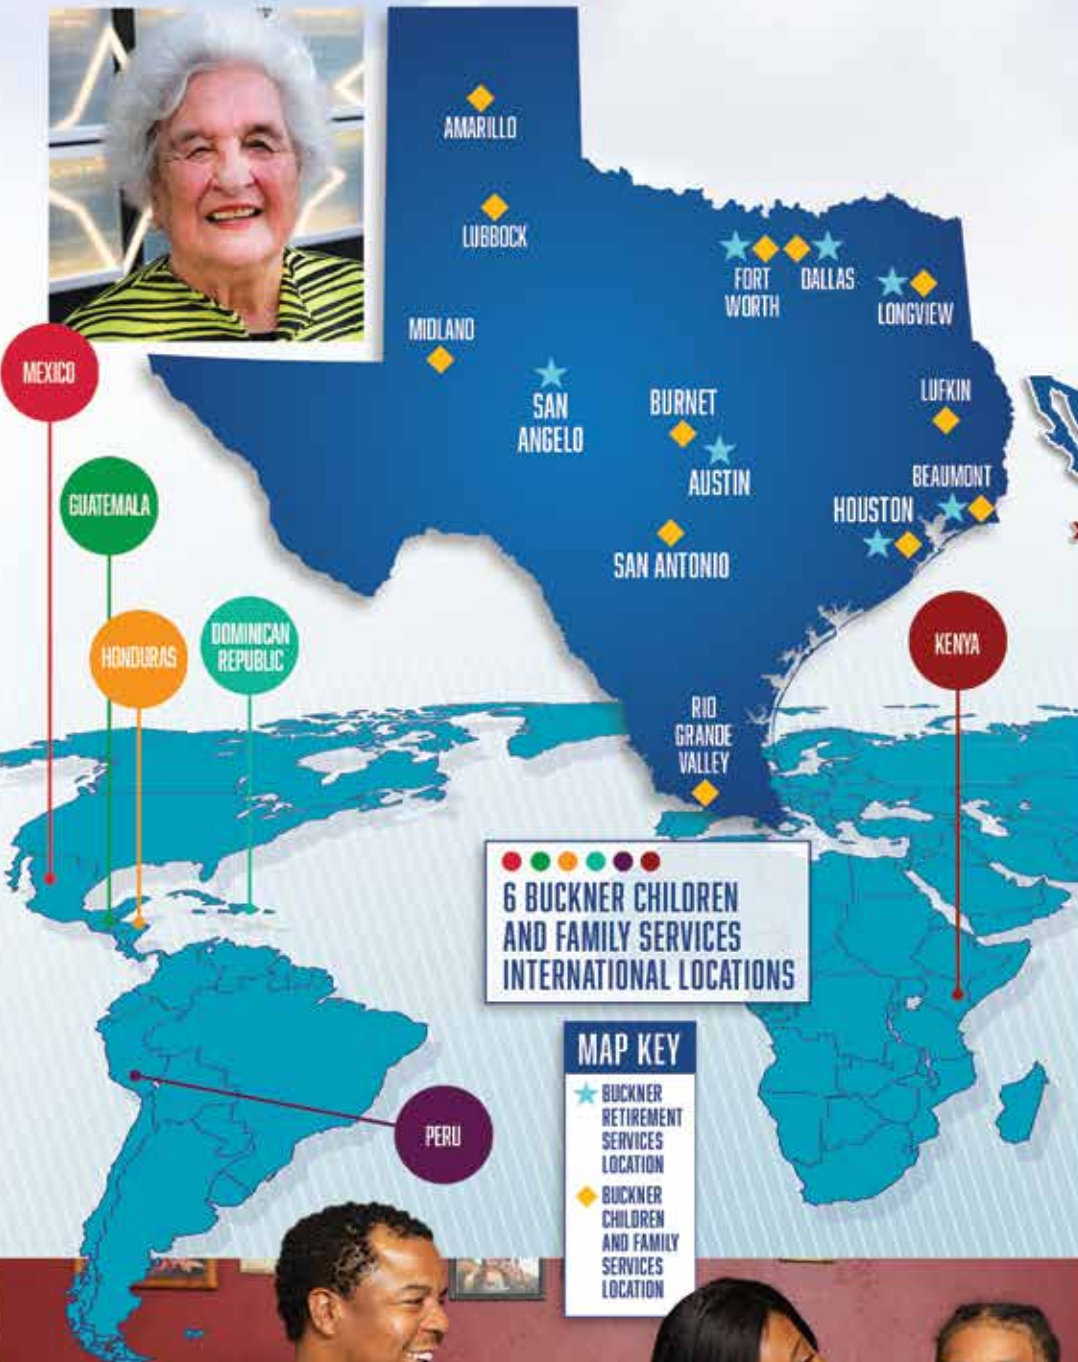

Buckner Family Pathways®. Generational change starts with one person. Buckner Family Pathways allows single parents to discover their independence and strength as they pursue their education and live in safe, affordable housing with their children. Each family is empowered to transform the course of their future and impact their family forever.

Buckner Retirement Services. From independent living to skilled nursing and memory care, each Buckner senior living community offers a continuum of care to support all stages of the aging process. In addition, communities provide a wide array of experiences to inspire happiness.

Protect children

93% of children were successfully discharged from Buckner Foster Care in Texas and internationally (Kenya, Peru and Guatemala) into family permanency.

When you protect one child, you create a ripple effect like a pebble dropped in a pond. The love and support shown to that child may propel them through school and their future career. Their ripple may extend to their siblings, their parents, or their future family. The impact can last generations, and it starts with one child.

A full house. When Shawn and Mindy Moore learned they couldn't have biological children, Mindy prayed hard for just one child. "That's all I wanted was one. Give me one, and I'll do whatever you want me to do," she said. "God gave me six." All six of their children, from Daisa, 25, to Jude, 2, were from foster-to-adoptions. That many foster-to-adoptions are rare, but the Moores are fueled by their faith and commitment and supported by Buckner. And while Shawn was quick to point out "it's not been all rainbows and unicorns," he was even quicker to note it's all worth it.

548 children were protected and cared for through Buckner foster families in Texas.

90 Texas children were adopted into loving families.

387 children internationally were protected through Buckner permanency programs, including:

- 92 children were adopted through Buckner Kenya.
- 295 children were provided foster, kinship, transitional home or other types of care (Kenya, Guatemala, Peru, Mexico).

465 parents and their children lived safely at a Buckner Family Pathways® location in Texas.

298 Texas youth were supported to successfully transition from care to adulthood with resources through Transitional Care Management programs.

Strengthen families

family members received parenting education and enrichment through H.O.P.E.S (Healthy Family Outcomes through Prevention and Early Support).

Beyond basic needs. We may engage a family with a bag of groceries or a pair of children's shoes, but we equip them through education. And we elevate them through continual family coaching and spiritual enrichment. By strengthening a family, we invest in the future of its children.

Stitched together. Seeing was believing for Claudia Perez Ramirez. After a neighbor introduced her to Buckner Mexico, Claudia had a new vision for increased financial stability to afford her daughter's insulin and diabetes test strips. "With Buckner, my life has changed," she said. "Whenever I need medication or things like that, I have more confidence to go to different places to look for it." The knit and embroidered clothes, napkins, and other items that adorn her small home help Claudia supplement the family's income. She credits their financial stability to the classes she attended through Buckner. "Buckner has helped us come out ahead."

61,923 family members were strengthened through the Buckner Family Hope Center® model. 38,057 family members were strengthened in the 15 Family Hope Centers in the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Honduras, Kenya, Mexico, and Peru. 32,866 family members were strengthened in nine Texas Family Hope Centers.

Transform generations

159 single mothers and single fathers worked toward self-sufficiency at one of the eight Buckner Family Pathways® locations in Texas.

Live in the moment while dreaming for the future. This mindset propels the way we operate as a nonprofit as well as the way we serve families. We adapt and change, and we grow stronger. We move toward a better future not for us, but for those generations that come after us.

Creating opportunities for others. During her time with Buckner Family Pathways®, Chalace Phillips learned it can take a village to raise a child, especially as a single mother. Motivated to give back to her community, Phillips became executive director of Midland Teen Court, a nonprofit creating second chances for youth in challenging situations. A desire to see her daughter grow up with unlimited opportunities and hope also motivated Chalace: “I think Buckner put me on a path to have choices and that’s really all I want for her, to be able to make choices.”

99 fathers participated in Fatherhood EFFECT (Educating Fathers for Empowering Children Tomorrow), which provides education and resources to fathers of children birth to age 17.

13,737 people from families, youth organizations, and churches made memories to last for generations at Camp Buckner.

The culmination of a well-lived life and celebrating the generations that follow us - that is what senior adulthood should look like. We are “Inspiring Happiness®” in senior adults by meeting their needs and enriching their lives so they can enjoy renewed passion and purpose.

The culmination of a well-lived life and celebrating the generations that follow us - that is what senior adulthood should look like. We are “Inspiring Happiness®” in senior adults by meeting their needs and enriching their lives so they can enjoy renewed passion and purpose.

Our senior living communities are built on a continuing care model:

- Independent Living
- Assisted Living
- Nursing Care
- Memory Care

At all levels of our care, we believe seniors want and need to live vibrant and active lives. Our life enrichment, fitness, and spiritual care provide residents opportunities to live fully and experience new and exciting ways to live.

Once a Rangerette, always a Rangerette.

In August, Kilgore College welcomed the 84th line of the high-kicking dance drill team known as the Rangerettes, and one of the very first Rangerettes celebrated her 99th birthday. Mae Horn was on the second line for the Rangerettes in 1941, and now lives at Buckner Westminster Place in Longview. Horn recalled her favorite memory of her dancing days as “when they called my name on the day of try-outs.” Two of Mae’s friends at Buckner Westminster Place were also Rangerettes, and now the trio experiences the joys of what life offers after hanging up their white boots.

2,938
